

SAVE THE NEWARK SCHOOL OF MUSICAL INSTRUMENT CRAFTS!

Preserve heritage craftsmanship in the UK!

As of May 2025, it has been announced that Lincoln College will accept no new students onto the musical instrument crafts courses at Newark.

The violin, guitar and woodwind making and repair courses and the piano tuning and repair course have made Newark into a hub of musical instrument crafts. They have created a community to nurture and support makers through their training and beyond.

The loss of these courses will have a profound and devastating effect on not only the instrument making industry, but on the global music community as a whole.

Put simply, if there are no instrument makers and restorers, there are no instruments.
